Guidance Notes

Co-production agreement means the European (Council of Europe) Convention on Cinematographic Co-Production in force in Ireland for the purposes of an application for co-production status using this form.

For provisional co-production status, applications from the Irish co-producer should normally reach Fís Éireann/Screen Ireland six to eight weeks before the start of principal photography or key animation.

For final co-production status, applications from the Irish co-producer should be submitted as soon as possible following completion of the film and within three months of completion.

Information given in your application will be disclosed to the competent authority of the other country(ies) party to your co-production application.

PLEASE TYPE OR WRITE YOUR ANSWERS CLEARLY USING BLACK INK

Section 4. Co-producer's contributions to cost of production (finance plan)

Agreements between companies providing the finance and the co-producer(s) should generally reflect the apportionment given below.

APPLYING FOR PROVISIONAL STATUS Before commencement of principal photography, we will make a provisional assessment of how much each co-producer pays towards the costs of production by reviewing the amount of finance raised by each co-producer. In the table below provide a breakdown of the whole amount of finance brought by each co-producer to the cost of production. In cases where co-producers share common sources of finance, such as a contribution paid into a single production account, such monies should still be shown as channelled through at least one of the co-producers.		APPLYING FOR FINAL CO-PRODUCTION STATUS After completion of the film, we will need to know how much each co-producer has actually paid towards the costs of production. Please show in the final column how much was the producer's financial contribution. These figures will need to be audited for final status.

Section 5. Budget expenditure

What to submit for budget expenditure

The full budget topsheet should be presented as per the Co-Production Split Budget template which accompanies this application form on the Screen Ireland website

<https://www.screenireland.ie/filming/international-co-production/canada>

Please note that no form other than the template provided will be accepted for this section.

Background to creative contribution – How to split the budget

When you submit the application, budgets should always be split to show separately:

- Non co-producing countries

Expenditure in making the film outside any of the co-producing countries and on non-qualifying personnel: i.e. spend on the personnel of any non co-producing countries and spend in any non co-producing country (such as in countries used for location filming).

 Please note that the Irish co-producer's creative contribution should include EU & EEA spend*

 Please refer to individual treaties for definitions of spend*

Section 6. Shooting & facilities

Where exact addresses cannot be given, it will be sufficient to indicate in which country work is to be located.

IF THE FILM INVOLVES UNDERTAKING LOCATION WORK OR ANIMATION WORK IN A COUNTRY OUTSIDE THE CO-PRODUCING COUNTRIES, PLEASE SET OUT IN THE BOX BELOW REASONS WHY IT IS NECESSARY TO UNDERTAKE WORK OUTSIDE THE CO-PRODUCING COUNTRIES (this may include script or financing reasons)

(You may continue on a separate sheet if you wish)

Section 9. Personnel involved in making the film

Where names cannot be given for the key roles as requested, Fís Éireann/Screen Ireland will be prepared, initially, to accept the number of persons involved and their nationalities. However, it is essential that at least reasonably accurate estimates of the number and nationalities of the persons listed below be provided in order for an assessment for provisional co-production status to be made. Confirmation will be sought for final co-production status.

NOTE ABOUT ANIMATION FILMS

In the case of an animation film, we still require the fullest possible details to be entered. For instance, voice-over artists may be entered as leading artists and featured artists etc. Generally, accurate information should be entered where possible, even if one person performed more than one of the roles listed on the form. For example, for director of photography, you may put someone who supervised the taking of photographs or similar role, or may wish to amend the application form to show the correct job title for an individual.
