Applicants should be thoroughly aware of the regulations and limits that govern the amount of funding Screen Ireland can provide to a project. Applicants should note that in light of the pressure on Screen Ireland resources, awards considerably less than the maximum amounts available are more likely to be offered.

Production Funding Application Process

Prior to making an application, it is critical that Applicants familiarise themselves with the following sections of the website:

- Principles & Criteria
- Regulations & Limits

In advance of making an application with a project that is currently in the Screen Ireland system, it is essential that you make personal contact via email with the relevant Screen Ireland Project Manager at least three weeks before a deadline to discuss the state of the project and they will advise on its readiness for consideration. In advance of making an application for a project that has never been discussed with a Project Manager, it is essential to fill out the Production Application Request Form and return it via email to Jennifer Smyth at least three weeks before a deadline. This form, as well as any other relevant details, will be used to gauge the readiness of a project for consideration.

Production Funding Assessment Process

A project will be considered for production funding by Screen Ireland only if:

- the application is made by a bona fide Irish tax compliant producer with a production company established in the Republic of Ireland;
- the production company can show that it makes an ongoing significant contribution to the culture and development of the Film and TV industry in the Republic of Ireland: and
- there is a Director committed to making the film.

Applications will be assessed by members of the Project Group utilising Screen Ireland Principles & Criteria at a funding meeting comprising of all members of the Screen Ireland Production, Development & Distribution team, members of the Legal & Business Affairs team and, on an ad hoc basis, consultants drawn from a small pool of non-Screen Ireland professionals retained for their specific skills. The decisions taken by the Project Group will be expressed as recommendations to the Board of Screen Ireland and will then require endorsement by the Board of Screen Ireland to give effect and thereafter be communicated to Applicants.

Following a negative decision by the Board, a project may be re-submitted to Screen Ireland only if significant, material changes have been made to the package (i.e. to the screenplay, to key creative elements such as casting, or to the production cost). Screen Ireland will only consider a project submitted to a funding programme twice – if an application is unsuccessful following a second submission, it is no longer eligible within that funding programme.

Production Funding Options

If an application is awarded funding by Screen Ireland, applicants may receive one of two offers as follows:

1. A Provisional Offer of Commitment (with no amount dictated) of production funding available for a six-month period only with no extensions.
2. A Quantified award of production funding available for six-month period only. A single extension of three months may be available only if strong material evidence of the advancement towards contracting is presented. Applicants must contact their Project Manager at least two weeks before the project expiry date to request an extension. If a Project Manager is not consulted before the expiry date the offer will automatically lapse and the applicant will be expected to re-apply via the online application system.

All offers are subject to the availability of Screen Ireland funding. Due to the pressure on Screen Ireland funding, the duration and terms of offers are non-negotiable.

Production Funding Conditions

- A. Funding is provided in the form of limited-recourse loans recoverable from a share of revenues from the exploitation of the project and also entitling Screen Ireland to a share of netprofits.
- B. In making funding available, Screen Ireland pays close attention to the previous work of all individuals involved (including producers, co-financiers, sales agents and distributors) taking into account their creative abilities in audio-visual media as well as their professional competence and reliability. Screen Ireland production funding is generally provided during production in accordance with an agreed cashflow. Before starting to fund, Screen Ireland will need to be satisfied that all other providers of finance to the production are contracted and securely committed, and that the amount of finance available is sufficient to cover the entire budget.

- C. On all productions with a global production budget in excess of three (3) million euro it is a strict requirement of Screen Ireland that an approved completion guarantor has been engaged in relation to the production where Screen Ireland's funding is to be made available during production.
- D. The appointment of an approved collection agent is a normal requirement of Screen Ireland.
- E. Screen Ireland funding may only be incurred on Irish costs (see guidelines on Admissible Irish Creative Expenditure below).
- F. Screen Ireland contractually requires that all rights relating to a project (especially a documentary) be cleared worldwide and in perpetuity across all media. This includes rights in all underlying materials, performers, music, archive footage etc.
- G. All projects in receipt of funding must be eligible for Errors & Omissions insurance and have an allowance for this within the submitted production budget.
- H. All projects in receipt of Screen Ireland funding must provide and allow for a contingency of 10% of the submitted production budget. Exceptions may be made in relation to documentaries on a case-by-case basis.
- I. Screen Ireland will require viable theatrical windows for all projects especially those involving Broadcaster support. In the case of documentaries, Screen Ireland requires an eighteen-month theatrical window from the date of first theatrical screening. In the case of feature films, Screen Ireland requires a twenty-four-month theatrical window from the date of the first theatrical screening.
- J. Projects supported by Screen Ireland Creative Co-production funding must be approved as official co-productions under a bilateral treaty or the European Convention on Cinematographic Co-Production. Where in exceptional cases Screen Ireland agrees to waive this requirement, the project must still be structured as a bona fide co-production in which ownership, rights and revenues are shared among the co-producers. Screen Ireland will not waive the requirement for official status in respect of co-productions with the UK and as a result Screen Ireland cannot become involved in projects which have EIS or SEIS funding as part of their financing.
- K. In relation to Animation TV Production, the maximum amount available is predicated upon the production of the maximum number of standard episodes in a series (e.g 52 x 11'). Where a fewer number of episodes are proposed, Screen Ireland investment is likely to reflect this.

Any individual found in breach of their contractual obligations to Screen Ireland is not in a position to sign the Declaration of Compliance requirement when submitting an application. Screen Ireland will impose strict sanctions on any individual found in default of a contract which may involve precluding them from making any further funding applications to Screen Ireland for a designated period of time and reducing or cancelling any outstanding payments owing on a project.

Production Funding Admissible Irish Creative Expenditure Guidelines

A fundamental principle of Screen Ireland funding for production is that the entire amount invested by Screen Ireland in a project must be spent on Irish personnel, goods and services. Where only part of the production of a project will take place in the Republic of Ireland, producers should be aware that the amount of funding requested from Screen Ireland may be limited by the amount of such Irish creative expenditure to be incurred.

In relation to the amount of investment to be sought from Screen Ireland for a project and the amount of admissible Irish creative expenditure to be incurred, Screen Ireland requires a 1.5:1 spend ratio on its investment.

The definition of admissible Irish creative expenditure governing the level of Screen Ireland funding in a project is different from the definition of eligible Irish expenditure under the Section 481 tax incentive provisions. Screen Ireland currently regards the following as "Admissible Irish Creative Expenditure" for the purposes of its own investment:

- Fees and salaries paid to Irish persons working in the Republic of Ireland or abroad
- Per diems paid to any persons while working in the Republic of Ireland
- Expenditure on goods and services purchased in the Republic of Ireland.

Please note that the following costs are not eligible as Admissible Irish Creative Expenditure:

- travel costs of non-Irish persons unless travelling to/from Ireland in order to carry out work in Ireland
- payments for insurances, including completion bond
- payments for rights clearances in respect of music, literary work, archive material, etc.
- financing costs

In the case of Ireland/UK Co-Productions where the production is taking place in the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland, as part of its considerations in relation to Screen Ireland funding, Screen Ireland may take into account the ratio of Section 481 and UK tax credit expenditure in relation to the project.

With regard to development costs, these will be assessed on a case-by-case basis. Payments to Irish persons (e.g. screenwriters) will clearly be admissible; other costs will be assessed taking account of the nationality of the producer primarily responsible for development and, in some cases, the provenance of development finance.

The above conditions on Admissible Irish Creative Expenditure are applicable to Fiction: Irish Production, Fiction: Creative Co-Production and Animation TV Production. It is likely to apply particularly to projects structured as minority Irish co-productions and eligible for Fiction: Creative Co-production funding. They may also be relevant to animation feature films (typically made as multi-country co-productions) and to Fiction: Irish Production projects where little or no shooting takes place in Ireland. Please note that Screen Ireland Guidelines on Admissible Irish Creative Expenditure are subject to a periodic review.

Production Funding Policy on Marketing Materials

Production budgets for projects submitted for funding must contain line items adequate to cover the production of good quality marketing materials for your film. Micro budget films with production budgets of €100,000 or less are exempt from this.

Marketing materials to be produced for delivery to sales agents and distributors must include:

- A wide range of approved cast stills, cleared for use in key art (posters, etc) and for other promotional purposes;
- A wide range of production stills;
- Professionally prepared production notes, to include detailed interviews with director, screenwriter, producer, topline cast and key crew;
- An EPK (Electronic Press Kit), to include scenes from the film cleared for promotional use, interviews with topline cast, and behind-the-scenes footage showing production of the film.
- A publicist should be appointed to oversee the production of these items and assure their delivery. The budget allowances for marketing materials and personnel will be subject to Screen Ireland approval, and Screen Ireland will have the right to approve the appointed publicist, stills photographer and EPK team.
- Screen Ireland should be appropriately credited in any press coverage and on advertising/marketing materials including online databases such as IMDB etc.
